FEDERAL BOARD TO FIX MILK PRICE; HEARING BEGUN

Presence of Dealers' Official at Commissioners' Table Causes Speculation.

The feature of the first meeting of the Federal Milk Commission in New York City today was the presence of J. E. Nathan, Secretary of the New York State Milk Dealers' Association, at the table with the commissioners. On at least one occasion Mr. Nathan leaned over the table and was in whispered conversation with Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator in New York City. Subsequently he passed a slip of paper upon which something was written to C. R. Shedd, of Buffalo, one of the Federal Milk Commissioners.

When it became known to the few persons who attended the hearing in the Council Chamber of the City Hall that Mr. Nathan was seated with the commission and was, apparently, prompting some of the questions which were being asked R. D. Cooper, representing the dairy farmers, there was a well defined murmur in the chamber. Later when a reporter asked Dr. W. H. Jordan, Chairman of the commission, who presided at the hearing, what Mr. Nathan's presence with the commission meant, he showed great concern and hastened to declare it did not mean anything. "Did you see Mr. Nathan there?" Dr. Jordan was asked. "Yes, but I did not pay any attention to it. I can assure you he will say at the opening of the hearing."

Dr. Jordan then declared the presence of Mr. Nathan at the table with the commissioners should not be construed to mean that he or any other person representing any of the interests involved in the milk investigation will have any influence in determining the commission's decision in the matter of price fixing.

"This commission was appointed in Washington and it will go ahead with a calm, deliberate and impartial investigation of the milk situation and it will fix prices on what it believes to be an equitable basis," he said. Mr. Nathan said he took a place at the table with the Commissioners in order to hear Mr. Shedd's "I wanted to hear some questions with him," he said.

Under questioning by the Chairman, Mr. Cooper said that the cost of feed is one of the big factors in the price of milk. At this the question of whether the Government is going to take up the matter of regulating the price of feedstuffs arose. "My acceptance of a place on this commission was predicated on the promise that there is to be such regulation," Mr. Mitchell, head of the New York State Food Commission, declared.

Other testimony was almost a repetition of that given before the Mayor's Committee in the milk investigation. James E. Thompson, chief of the Bureau of Milk Inspection here, read statistics which showed that approximately 1,536,732 quarts of milk, 1,160 quarts of buttermilk, 920 quarts of cream and 1,334 quarts of cream are received in New York City daily.

It developed that the large distributing companies are paying the dairy farmers up to $3.34 a hundred pounds for the milk sold here. There are forty-six and a half quarts of milk in a hundredweight. This makes the average price to the distributor a little more than 7 cents a quart, while the consumer pays 14 cents. "We hope to be able to lessen the cost of milk to the consumer," was all members of the commission would say at the opening of the hearing.

AMERICAN AIRMEN, ADRIFT 60 HOURS, PICKED UP AT SEA

French Patrol Boat Rescues Three Who Went in Search of German Submarines.

A FRENCH PORT, Nov. 25.—Suffering from cold, exhaustion and hunger, three American naval airmen who were picked up by a French patrol boat Saturday night after having been lost at sea for nearly sixty hours, have been landed here. The three, in a huge triplane hydro-airplane, left a French base on Thursday morning in search of four enemy submarines reported operating off the coast.

When they failed to return within the usual time other machines were sent to search for them. The searchers returned after several hours, having found no trace of the missing plane or its crew.

The naval authorities then sent out a general alarm to all Allied boats off the coast. The search was continued throughout Thursday night, all day and all night Friday and throughout Saturday, with naval air machines assisting in the daylight hours.

At dusk Saturday a French patrol boat saw the missing machine with its crew drifting helplessly several miles out at sea and rescued the men, who are: Ensign Kenneth Smith, a former Yale student, pilot; Frank J. Brady of Newark, N. J., observer and gunner, and L. P. Wilkinson, mechanic.

The hydro-airplane was sunk to prevent it falling into enemy hands. The Americans will soon be able to resume their flight.

MATRON CAPTURES FUGITIVE.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 25.—After a chase of several hundred yards, which took her pell-mell through a house, Police Matron Ada Todd single handedly captured J. W. Walters, a notorious prisoner who had escaped from Jailor Edward near the Court House.

Putting her with the sparkle of victory in her eyes, the matron brought the captive back by the nose of the neck. Walters, always a blushing, made only one remark on his capture, which was: "She missed her calling; she should have been on the track."

Suit for Damages Lives After Claim.

1,000 WORKERS IN PANIC AT LOFT BUILDING BLAZE

Girls Flee by Fire Escapes in West 28th Street as Flames Break Through Doors.

A thousand workers, many of them girls, fled in panic this morning from fire in the ten-story loft building at Nos. 13-15 West Twenty-Eighth Street. Most of them reached the street by way of the fire-escapes and the interior stairs, but many others used the elevators, which did not go out of commission until everybody was out.

The greatest excitement was among the employees of the Ilders Miller Company, furriers, on the second floor, and the Alexander Deutsch Company, customers, on the third. Many girls were at work in these lofts when the flames burst through the doors of an unused elevator shaft.

Fire Chief "Smoky Joe" Martin said he believed the fire had started from defective electric wires in the abandoned elevator shaft. The flames started there and crept between floors, so that the firemen had unusual difficulty. The first warning came when smoke filtered through the old doors. The shaft was an efficient chimney, and the whole building was filled with smoke.

Nobody was injured, but many of the girls, having fled without wraps, were suffering from the cold in the street until a vacant storeroom on the ground floor was opened to give them shelter. Many shirtwaists were torn in the rush for exits.

After the last of the tenants had reached the street the elevators "went dead," probably from short circuit by water. The damage was estimated at $2,500.

Shaw Play in People's House.

The Arts Council, an association of artists, writers and other professionals enrolled under the pacifist banner, gave a "Winter's Night" entertainment at the People's House, No. 7 East 15th Street, last night. An audience of 250 witnessed the presentation of George Bernard Shaw's play "Fanny Hill," which was followed by a musical programme.

CONGRESSMEN UNDER FIRE IN FRANCE RETURN TO U. S.

Americans Attracted Great Attention Back of and Along the Lines of Battle.

Shooting attacks of having been under German machine gun fire, a delegation of Congressmen who have been studying war conditions in Europe, returned to an Atlantic port on an American steamship today. They had seen experiences under fire in battle, trenches on the border of the Marne Land.

The Congressional party, under the guidance of British officers, went from London to France by special boat and special train. They attracted great attention back of and along the lines of battle.

The Germans, it appears, noticed the unusual activity in a section of British trenches caused by the visit of the Congressmen and thinking a raid was about to begin opened fire with a battery of machine guns. Some of the Congressmen who were exposed to the rain of bullets promptly sought the shelter of the dugouts, and they remained dug in until the Germans, finding no raid was contemplated, ceased firing.

The party which arrived to-day included Representatives Clarence C. Dill, John F. Miller and Albert Johnson of Washington; Charles R. Timberlake and Edward D. Taylor of Colorado; Dan V. Stephens of Nebraska; William B. Goodwin of Arkansas and former Representative John H. Rosten of Montana and Frederick C. Hicks of New York.

Supreme Court Reopens.

MRS. BEUTINGER LOSES AUTO LICENSE AFTER TRIAL

Jersey Woman, Acquitted Last Fall of Killing Husband, Incensed at Hearing Over Accident.

Mrs. Margaret T. Beutinger, formerly of Caldwell, N. J., and now of Montclair, who was tried in Newark last fall for shooting and killing her husband at their home in Caldwell and acquitted on the ground she shot in self defense, was tried here to-day by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill in connection with a recent automobile accident in Montclair. While driving a car belonging to Dr. H. H. Koenig of this city she knocked down and severely injured Thomas Meier, five years old, and then drove away.

The evidence showed that Mrs. Beutinger was racing with P. A. Miller of Montclair. She insisted she was driving the last fifteen miles an hour, but Miller submitted they were going between twenty-five and thirty miles. Mrs. Beutinger was found guilty and her license was revoked. When her lawyer was asked why she had not pleaded insanity against this ruling, she was heard to say she would not do so.
